"The South 40"

There's a new material, trade name - Lysoff that is now on the recommended list for beef and non-lactating dairy animals for control of lice.

Aphids can be a serious problem on small grains, especially wheat and barley. You'll want to check it regularly.

• • •

Did you know that a recent USDA report shows that although the price of wheat has decreased $1.00 a bushel, a loaf of bread has increased in price. The report states that the value of wheat in bread is worth 3.5c and if the wheat was provided at no cost a loaf of bread would still cost over 30c.

• • •

As late as November 22 only 75% of Virginia's wheat crop had been seeded. How late can you wait is a reasonable question. Wheat must be able to sprout and be vernalized by passing through a period of cold weather. If vernalization does not take place, a seed head will not be formed.

Varieties with a high degree of winter hardiness require more cold weather to vernalize than varieties with relatively low winter hardiness. For example, it would probably take more cold weather to vernalize Arthur than McNair 1813.

If you still plan to seed wheat, plant at rate of 2 - 2½ bushels per acre and get it in at least 1½" deep. It will be warmer at this depth and less chance of heaving damage.

• • •

Some farmers are just plain long sitting down on checking soil pH and it's getting away from them.

Now, there's no question that many crops "will grow" within the range of 5.0 and 7.0 pH. Look at some specific crops - rye may grow fairly well and produce some seed at 5.0 to 5.4 but barley would not even survive with this soil reaction. Corn would produce only "nubbins" and wheat grains would be few and shrivelled with soil pH value below 5.4.

• • •

There's a new pork product on the market that will be worth your trying. It's called tender chunk ham and made by the same people who have sold 80 tons of spam over the past 40 years.

The new product has the appearance of tuna fish. It's good for snacks on a cracker or for hors d' oeuvres and could be used in sandwiches, salads or casseroles.

• • •

Hog producers should make plans to utilize ladino clover pastures for feeding market hogs and dry sows. When prices get deflated, select the least cost method of feeding and it's usually vegetable protein.

• • •

Last week we mentioned the need to keep seed dry and reduce air temperature in order to improve their longevity.

Dr. Jim Harrington of the University of California at Davis suggests that the process can be improved with the use of powdered milk. He suggests the following steps:

1. Unfold and lay out a stack of four facial tissues.
2. Place two heaping tablespoons powdered milk in one corner, making sure that the milk is from a freshly opened box to guarantee dryness.
3. Fold and roll the tissues to form a small pouch. Secure with tape or rubber band.
4. Place the pouch in a wide mouth jar and immediately drop in packet of leftover seeds.
5. Seal the jar tightly using a rubber ring to exclude moist air.
6. Store jar in refrigerator - - not freezer.
7. Use the seed as soon as possible. Discard and replace powdered milk pouch once or twice a year.

This method is useful if you plan sequential plantings from the same packets during one growing season. Powdered milk acts as a desiccant. Dry milk is "hygroscopic" and will quickly soak up moisture from the air. Therefore, when seed are removed - do so quickly and replace cap promptly.

Blood Donors Receive Recognition

When the Red Cross Bloodmobile made its visit to Appomattox on November 23rd many blood donors were recognized.

Jane Perdue received a pin in recognition of having donated four gallons of blood to the program; James McClary, Jr. received a three gallon pin; Dorothy Stevens, Frank Williamson, and John C. Harris received two gallon pins; and Laura Martin received her one gallon pin.

First time donors at this visit were Richard Moore, William Hammock, Cornell Goldman, Lynn Lucado, and Donald Harvey.

Congratulations to these fine citizens of our county..people like these make our blood program a success. Without the donors there would be no blood in case of emergencies and for the sick and blood is needed more often than we realize.

WHITE OAKGROVE BAPTIST JUNIOR CHURCH

The White Oak Grove Baptist Junior Church will have a Christmas program on Thursday night, December 23rd at 6 P.M.

Everyone is invited.

Santa Draws Big Crowd To Downtown Appomattox

Picutred above is town policeman James Ford on the right and Mrs. Ford on the left bidding Santa Claus farewell on his long journey back to the North Pole. The picture was taken during the December 3rd Santa Claus visit to Appomatox sponsored by the Appomattox Jaycees. The Jaycees wish to thank all those children and parents who came out to visit Santa and they also wold like to thank the Town Police Department and the Appomattox Fire Department for providing transportation.

The Jaycees would like to remind those parents who had pictures taken of their children that they should pick those pictures up at the TIMES - VIRGINIAN office as soon as possible. The Appomattox County Jaycees would also like to take this opportunity to wish each and everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Manpower Services Council Soliciting Proposals For 1978

The Governor's Manpower Services Council is presently soliciting proposals for Fiscal Year 1978 under the Comprehensive Employment & Training Act. This money, referred to as the Governor's Special Grant, is to be used primarily for special demonstration or pilot projects and technical assistance to the Prime Sponsors. Projects should have Statewide implication. The Comprehensive Employment and Training Act is directed at serving unemployed, underemployed and economically disadvantaged indivuduals. All proposed projects must meet CETA guidelines. Proposals must be received by the Central Virginia Manpower Planning Council by January 26, 1977 to be mailed to the GMSC office by February 28, 1977. Proposal packets are available from your local Prime Sponsor's office at the Central Virginia Planning District Commission, 2511 Memorial Avenue or be calling or writing the GMSC at 703 East Main Street, Richmond, phone 786-8769. Details are available in the proposal packet; further information may be obtained from the GMSC office. Funding will not be available until October 1, 1977.
